INDEX TO VOL. LXXX

The titles of articles are printed in italics

AFR

AFRICA, East, British and German, 388–397
Agriculture, farms for returned soldiers, 557–567
Agriculture: Wanted a Policy, 1173–1185
America as a Naval Power, 785–798
America, The Apathy of, 252–264
American Germans and neo-Prussians, 458–470
American industrial progress after the Civil War, 675–700
American Presidential campaign, 1069–1082
American 'Railway Kings,' 1083–1098
Anti-Small Holdings Mania, The, 557–567
Art in Memorials, 568–575
Artillery Methods in Modern War, 1301–1310
Asquith (Mr.) on Britain's war policy, 441–457
Austria and Mittel-Europa, 169–190
Austro-Hungarian Monarchy and dismemberment of German Empire, 441–457

BANKES (G. Nugent), A Way to National Regeneration, 1311–1330
Barker (J. Ellis), Britain's Coming Industrial Supremacy, 675–700; The German Emperor's Position, 1155–1172
Battine (Capt. Cecil), The Ministry of War and the Military Executive, 867–880
Baumann (Arthur A.), About Personal Economy, 1284–1291
Beatty (Sir David) and Jutland battle, 429–440
Belgian Unity and the Flemish Movement, 701–717

BUR

Belligerent and Neutral from 1756 to 1915, 471–488, 799–821
Bellot (Hugh H. L.), War Crimes, their Prevention and Punishment, 636–660
Benjamin (Lewis S.), A Study of German Propaganda, 853–866
Bevan (Edwyn), The Truth about Lies, 612–622; Common Sense about Peace, 1142–1154
Birth-rate, War, and marital obligations, 586–611
Bismarck and defensive Confederation of German States, 1155–1172
Blake (Sir Henry), Is there a Way out of the Chaos in Ireland? 734–739
Bowles (Mr. Gibson) and Prize Court judgments, 155–168
Britain's Coming Industrial Supremacy, 675–700
British and German naval battle off Jutland, 429–440
British Army, Twelve Months with the, 981–988
British India and native self-government, 265–283
British New Armies, training and achievements, 881–892
British rule in India and political agitation, 1113–1127
British sailors and German raiders off Lowestoft, 1230–1235
Brock (L. G.), The Re-education of the Disabled, 822–835
Brusiloff's offensive and Russian victories, 1236–1252
Buckle (Mr.), his Life of Disraeli, 350–370
Bülow (Prince) on Peace, 239–251
Bury (Bishop), Neutrality in Northern Europe: Norway and Sweden, 48–57; Recent Experiences in Russia, 543–556

CAN

CANNING and Treaty of Tilsit, 322–336
Carlisle (Bishop of), The New Education, 989–999
Carpenter (Bishop Boyd), Dante's Appeal to Nations and Peoples, 939–951
Castles in the Air at Charing Cross, 966–980
Child-nature and how to develop it, 989–999
Church of Christ, The Coming Order in the, 521–530, 1000–1007; a reply to, 836–840
Cloriston (Henry), Rome or Sparta the Prussian Exemplar? 411–414
Clothes-mending and housewifery teaching for girls, 337–349
Coleridge and Shakespeare's characters, 129–140
Coming Order in the Church of Christ, The, 521–530, 1000–1007; a reply to, 836–840
Common Sense about Peace, 1142–1154
Compulsory Notification, The Stumbling-Stone of, 1279–1283
Conference in Paris and mutual collaboration of the Allies, 1097–1112
Confident Russia, 1236–1252
Consulate, British, training for the, 113–128
Council of Nations for prevention of wars, 25–35
Crammond (Edgar), The Reckoning, 221–238
Crewdson (Wilson), French Heroes and German Barbarians, 623–635
Cromer (Earl of), Thinking Internationally, 25–35

DAIRY-FARM sanitation, Council control of milk supply, 1292–1300
Danger in India, The, 1113–1127
Dante's Appeal to Nations and Peoples, 939–951
D'Antraigues (Count) and Treaty of Tilsit, 322–336
Demobilisation, Right and Wrong Methods of, 661–674
Democracy, Current Theories of, 371–387
Democracy in Germany and Prussian autocracy, 441–457
Diplomatic-consular service, education for, 113–128
Disabled, The Re-education of the, 822–835
Discipline and Freedom, 88–100
Disraeli and To-day, 350–370
Dramatic ideals of Henry James, 141–145
Dumba (Constantin) and American neutrality, 252–264

FRE

EAST Africa, British and German, 388–397
Economy, Personal, About, 1284–1291
Education, Reforms in, 101–128
Education, Public Schools and Public Service, 101–128
Education, The New, 989–999
Egypt, The Mohammedan Law Courts of, 740–754
Emerson's Thoughts on Education as bearing on Modern Problems, 1198–1211
Empire reorganisation after the War, 893–907
England and Germany, The Social Gulf between, 1128–1141
England, Some Reflections by a Friend of, 507–520
England's Empty Cradles, 586–611
England's mission of Empire, Disraeli's ideals, 350–370
English Bishop's welcome in Russia, 543–556
English poetry of the present day, 1008–1022
English railways, management and control, 398–410, 1023–1039
Entente Powers and Japan's assistance, 531–542

FALK (Oswald Toynbee), Will London be a Free Market for Gold after the War? 146–154
Falsehood and suppression of truth in war-time, 612–622
'Faust' and the German Character, 718–733
Félibre brotherhood of Provence, 58–72
Fiction, The Personal Element in, 1253–1266
FitzGerald (William George), The Apathy of America, 252–264; Wilson or Hughes? 'Preparedness' as the great Election Issue, 1069–1082
Flanders, Fighting in, in 1793–1794, 1040–1068
Flemings, Walloons, and Belgian unity, 701–717
Foodstuffs and agricultural produce, how to get the best results, 1173–1185
Fox (Henry Wilson), A Platform for an Imperial Party, 893–907
Francis Joseph, the late Emperor of Austria, and causes of the War, 1155–1172
Freedom, Discipline and, 88–100
French Heroes and German Barbarians, 623–635
French invasion of Ireland under Humbert, 191–208; of Flanders in 1793–4, 1040–1068

French Revolution, Paris and Versailles before the, English lady's visit, 755–784
Frenchman's comparison of British and French soldiers, 981–988
French novel on the pursuit of riches, 301–321
French patriotic poetry of Provence, 58–72
Frewen (Moreton), The Economics of James J. Hill, 1083–1096

GATTIE (Mr. Alfred Warwick), his proposed Central Goods Clearing House for London, 398–410
George's (Mr. Lloyd) Home Rule scheme and Irish ideals of national unity, 209–220, 489–506, 734–739
German atrocities at Gerbéviller and Lunéville, 623–635
German Chancellor, The, and Peace, 9–24, 239–252
German Emperor's Position, The, 1155–1172
German Empire, The Dissolution of the, 441–457
German Future, The Old House and the, 169–190
German ill-treatment of prisoners and civilians, 73–87
German Propaganda, A Study of, 853–866
German Shells on England, The First: a Sailor's Account of the Lowestoft Raid, 1230–1235
German veracity and accusations of lying in war-time, 612–622
German violation of neutrality of Luxemburg, 415–428
German war-aims and peace terms, 1142–1154
Germany, The Social Gulf between England and, 1128–1141
Girls, how to train them to be thrifty housewives, 337–349
God and Mammon, 301–321
Goethe's 'Faust,' Mephistopheles, and modern Germans, 718–733
Gold supply, Bank of England, and labour market after the War, 146–154
Gordon Relief Expedition, the, With Kitchener in, 284–300
Greece and Prussia, an historical parallel, 931–938
Grey (Viscount) on England's dealings with Germany, 441–457
Gribble (Francis), The Treatment of Prisoners in Germany, 73–87; The Future of Luxemburg, 415–428
Guns, Modern, and how to fire them, 1301–1310
Guyot (Yves), The Dissolution of the German Empire, 441–457

HABSBURG dynasty and future of Austria, 169–190
Hall (Major Sir John), A New Clue to the Mystery of Tilsit, 322–336
Hallows (Capt. Ralph W.), Artillery Methods in Modern War, 1301–1310
Harris (H. Wilson), The Case for Municipal Milk, 1292–1300
Headlam (J. W.), The German Chancellor and Peace, 9–24; Prince Bülow and Peace, 239–251
Hill (James J.), The Economics of, 1083–1096
Hindlip (Lord), Agriculture: Wanted a Policy, 1173–1185
Hohenzollern, The Royal Hand of a, 1–8
Holmes (E. G. A.), Discipline and Freedom, 88–100
Home Rule and Irish recruiting, 952–965; and partition of Ireland, 489–506, 734–739
Hotham (Charles) of the Coldstream Guards, Fighting in Flanders in 1793–1794, 1040–1068
Human consciousness, evolution of, 576–585
Humbert's Invasion of Ireland in 1798, 191–208
Huzard (Madame A.), her novel 'The Mystery of the Beatitudes,' 301–321
Hyndman (Mr.) and national control of railways, 398–410
Hyndman (H. M.), The Railway Problem Solved, 1023–1039

IMPERIAL Party, A Platform for an, 893–907
India after the War, 265–283
India, The Danger in, 1173–1127
Industrial supremacy of Britain and American competition, 675–700
International arbitration or Council of Nations, 25–35
International law from 1756 to 1915, 471–488, 799–821; the punishment of crimes against, 636–660
Ireland, Humbert's Invasion of, in 1798, 191–208
Ireland, Is there a Way out of the Chaos in? 489–506, 734–739
Irish Labyrinth, Ways out of the, 209–220
Irish Problem, The Latest, 952–965

JAMES (Henry) and the English Theatre, 141–145
Japan's Part in the War, 531–542
Johnston (Sir Harry H.), The Public Service and Education, 113–128
Jutland, Naval battle off coast of, 429–440

KIN

KING Constantine of Greece and Frederick William III. of Prussia, 931–938
Kinloch-Cooke (Lady), A Visit to Paris on the Eve of the Revolution, 755–784
Kitchener's adventures in Gordon relief expedition, 284–300

LATHBURY (D. C.), Ways out of the Irish Labyrinth, 209–220; The Latest Irish Problem, 952–965
Law of Nations and 'Zamora' judgment, 155–168
League of Brotherhood, co-operation of rich and poor, 1311–1330
Lowestoft Raid, A Sailor's Account of, 1230–1235
Lévy-Bruhl (Prof. L.), The War Industries of France, 36–47
Leyland (John), The Great Battle in the North Sea, 429–440; The United States Navy in the Making, 785–798
Lies, The Truth about, 612–622
Lilly (W. S.), God and Mammon, 301–321
London a Free Market for Gold after the War? 146–154
Long (Major-Gen. S. S.), Right and Wrong Methods of Demobilisation, 661–674
Luxemburg, The Future of, 415–428

MACHRAY (Robert), Japan's Part in the War, 531–542; Confident Russia, 1236–1252
Magnus (Sir Philip), Emerson's Thoughts on Education as bearing on Modern Problems, 1198–1211
McIlwraith (Sir Malcolm), The Mohammedan Law Courts of Egypt, 740–754
Madras (Bishop of), India after the War, 265–283
Mais (S. P. B.), Some Poets of To-day, 1008–1022
'Male and Female created He them,' 836–840
Mallock (W. H.), Current Theories of Democracy, 371–387
Mammon, God and, 301–321
Man, his bodily and mental evolution, 576–585
Maritime blockade and neutral trading with the enemy, 471–488
Marriott (J. A. R.), Mitteleuropa and the Meaning of the Paris Pact, 1097–1112
Marsh (Mr.) his collection of 'Georgian Poetry,' 1008–1022
Maud (Constance E.), The Patriot Poets of Provence, 58–72; The Mother of the Navy, 1212–1229

NOV

Memorials, Art in, 568–575
Merrin (Petty Officer H. J. G.), The First German Shells on England: a Sailor's Account of the Lowestoft Raid, 1230–1235
Military Service Bill and recruiting in Ireland, 952–965
Milk, Municipal, The Case for, 1292–1300
Millet (Capt. Philippe), Twelve Months with the British Army, 981–988
Ministry of War and Military Executive, 867–880
Mistral and the Félibre poets of Provence, 58–72
Mitteleuropa and the Meaning of the Paris Pact, 1097–1112
Mohammedan religious courts in Egypt, Turkish abuses, necessary reforms, 740–754
Monarchy, Dante's ideal, freedom under a beneficent Ruler, 939–951
Montessori system of education and Prussian repressive discipline, 88–100
Morris (Sir Malcolm), The Stumbling-Stone of Compulsory Notification, 1279–1283
Mother of the Navy, The, 1212–1229
Munition workers of France, 36–47
Murray (Rev. R. H.), Humbert's Invasion of Ireland in 1798, 191–208

NAMIER (L. B.), The Old House and the German Future, 169–190
Napoleon's meeting with Tsar Alexander I. at Tilsit, 322–336
National railways after the War, 398–410, 1023–1039
National Regeneration, A Way to, 1311–1330
Naumann's ideal State of Central Europe, 1097–1112
Navy, The Mother of the, 1212–1229
Neutral commerce, 'continuous voyage' restriction, 908–930
Neutral rights and trading with belligerents, 471–488
Neutrality in Northern Europe, Norway and Sweden, 48–57
Neutrals and the War, German methods of influencing public opinion, 853–866
New Armies, Eighteen Months with the, 881–892
New Education, The, 989–999
North Sea, The Great Battle in the, 429–440
Norway and Sweden and the War, 48–57
Novelists, English and French, and intrusion of author's personality into the story, 1253–1266

O'BR

O'BRIEN (William), Is there a Way out of the Chaos in Ireland? 489–506

PALMER (John), The Present Disrepute of Shakespeare, 129–140
Paris on the Eve of the Revolution, A Visit to, 755–784
Passelecq (Fernand), Belgian Unity and the Flemish Movement, 701–717
Paull (H. M.), The Personal Element in Fiction, 1253–1266
Peace, Common Sense about, 1142–1154
Peace, Prince Bülow and, 239–251
Pearson (Norman), Sub-Human Consciousnesses, 576–585
People's will and theories of democracy, 371–387
Personal Economy, About, 1284–1291
Picton-Turbervill (Miss), The Coming Order in the Church of Christ, 521–530; 1000–1007; a reply to, 836–840
Piggott (Sir Francis), The 'Zamora' Judgment, 155–168; Belligerent and Neutral: from 1756 to 1915, 471–488, 799–821, 908–930
Poets of To-day, Some, 1008–1022
Poland and Prussian perfidy, 1–8
Pougens (Mme. de, née Sayer), letters from Paris, temp. Louis XVI., 755–784
Pratt (Edwin A.), Railways and their Critics, 398–410
Prisoners in Germany, The Treatment of, 73–87
Propaganda, German, A Study of, 853–865
Provence, The Patriot Poets of, 58–72
Prussian domination or German freedom? 441–457
Prussian Kultur and Spartan ruthlessness, 411–414
Prussian militarism and European peace, 9–24; and restitution to its victims, 221–239
Prussian perfidy towards Poland, 1–8
Prussian repression and education by self-discipline, 88–100
Prussian, The Recent, 458–470
Prussianism and the independence of Luxemburg, 411–428
Public Schools, Science and the, 101–112
Public Service, The, and Education, 113–128
Pye (D. R.), Science and the Public Schools, 101–112

RAILWAY Problem, The, Solved, 1023–1039
Railways and their Critics, 388–410
Ratcliffe (S. K.), The Re-election of President Wilson, 1186–1197
Reckoning, The, 221–238

STO

Red Cross work among the French wounded, 623–635
Re-education of the Disabled, The, 822–835
Regeneration, National, A Way to, 1311–1330
Riley (Athelstan), 'Male and Female created He them,' 836–840
Rome or Sparta the Prussian Exemplar? 411–414
Rosco-Bogdanowicz (M. G. de), The Royal Hand of a Hohenzollern, 1–8
Ruhleben and German internment camps, 73–87
Russia, Confident, 1236–1252
Russia, Recent Experiences in, 543–556
Russian Philosopher, A Great, 841–852

SAILORS' Rests, Miss Weston's work among Bluejackets, 1212–1229
Saunders (George), 'Faust' and the German Character, 718–733
Saving habits and reckless extravagance in war time, 184–1291
Scandinavian opinions on the War, 48–57
Science and the Public Schools, 101–112
Sellers (Edith), An Antediluvian on the Education of Working-class Girls, 337–349
Sepulchral monuments, art and good taste in, 568–575
Shakespeare, The Present Disrepute of, 129–140
Sichel (Walter), Disraeli and To-day, 350–370
Silver currency and American wheat supply, 1083–1096
Smuts (General) and the Germans in East Africa, 388–397
Social Gulf between England and Germany, The, 1128–1141
Soldiers after the War, restoration to industrial life, 661–674, 822–835
Soloviev (Vladimir), Russian Christian philosopher, 841–852
Soudan expedition for relief of Gordon, Kitchener's share in, 284–300
Spanish forecast of England's future, 507–520
Spartan and Prussian terrorism compared, 411–414
Sports and pastimes, influence on national character, 1128–1141
Stirling (Mrs.), Fighting in Flanders in 1793–1794: from Diary of Charles Hotham, Coldstream Guards, 1040–1068
Stone (Brigadier-Gen. F. G.), Eighteen Months with the New Armies, 881–892; King Constantine of Greece and Frederick William III. of Prussia, 931–938

STU

Stumbling-Stone, The, of Compulsory Notification, 1279–1283
Sub-Human Consciousnesses, 576–585
Swinton (Capt. G. S. C.), Castles in the Air at Charing Cross, 966–980
Sydenham of Combe (Lord), The Danger in India, 1113–1127

TAVERNIER (Eugène), A Great Russian Philosopher, 841–852
Technical training in England and Germany, 101–112
Thames bridges, artistic possibilities, 966–980
Thinking Internationally, 25–35
Thyrso (Visconde de), Some Reflections by a Friend of England, 507–520
Tighe (Major-Gen. Sir M. J.), defence of British East Africa, 391–397
Tilsit, A New Clue to the Mystery of, 322–336
Truth about Lies, The, 612–622
Tuker (Miss M. A. R.), Women Preachers, 1267–1278
Turnor (Christopher), The Anti-Small Holdings Mania, 557–567

UNITED States, mixed races, and 'Keep Out' policy, 252–264
United States Navy in the Making, 785–798

VAUGHAN (Father Bernard), England's Empty Cradles, 586–611
Venereal diseases and notification of contagious complaints, 1279–1283
Venizelos and the Greek Provisional Government, 931–938
Verner (Colonel Willoughby), With Kitchener in the Gordon Relief Expedition, 284–300

WALDSTEIN (Sir Charles), The Social Gulf between England and Germany, 1128–1141

EAM

Walloons and Flemings and Belgian patriotism, 701–717
War and peace, Prince Bülow's views on, 239–251
War, Causes of the, and German terms of peace, 239–251
War Crimes, their Prevention and Punishment, 636–660
War forecasts and the future of England, 507–520
War indemnity and future of German trade, 221–238
War Industries of France, The, 36–47
War, Japan's Part in the, 531–542
War, Modern, Artillery Methods in, 1301–1310
War Office, Army Council, and Chief Command of British Forces, 867–880
War, The, and the future of India, 265–283
Weatherley (W. S.), Art in Memorials, 568–575
Weston (Miss), her work for our sailors, 1212–1229
Wilson or Hughes? 'Preparedness' as the great Election Issue, 1069–1082
Wilson (President) and America's policy in the World-War, 252–264
Wilson (President), The Re-election of, 1186–1197
Woman's ministry in the Christian Church, 521–530, 836–840, 1000–1007
Women Preachers, 1267–1278
Working-Class Girls, An Antediluvian on the Education of, 337–349
World-War, Responsibility for the, 1155–1172
Wounded, Work among the, 623–635

YATE (Lieut.-Col. A. C.), British and German East Africa, 388–397
Yoxall (Sir James), The Recent Prussian, 458–470

'ZAMORA' Judgment, The, 155–168

PRINTED BY
SPOTTISWOODE, BALLANTYNE & CO. LTD.
LONDON, COLCHESTER AND ETON, ENGLAND